DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 9-10 for examination.
2. Claim 10 is allowed.
3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: typographical errors, for example page 5, line 30, the phrase "proc ssor" should be "processor"; page 6, line 30 the phrase "Y t" should be "Yet"; page 7, lines 30-31 the phrase "data storag, as opposed to th method of the present invention, which is concern d with CPU cycles" should be "data storage, as opposed to the method of the present invention, which is concerned with CPU cycles".
Appropriate correction is required.
4. The objections above are examples of numerous errors that recurred throughout various pages of the specification and various claims. There are too many errors to list independently. Applicant should consider fixing all these errors in the amendment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Art Unit: 2195

6. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

7. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention are directed to system claim, but appearing to be comprised of software alone without claiming associated computer hardware required for execution. For example, claim 9, recited a plurality of means for, in which according to the specification these means for are software modules. A system that comprised only a software module is a software system itself. Thus, claim 9 is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claim 9 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, and minor objections, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

Art Unit: 2195
